Have bicycle, will travel. But if you're not sure where to ride, click on to this serious collection of bike tours from around the world. At last count, the website listed 7000 tours in 123 countries for all levels of fitness, for road bikes, mountain bikes and even electronic bikes. Website founder and cyclist Bruce Robertson is currently infatuated with Korea, where he's going with friends for a 350-kilometre ride from Seoul to Andong. "Korea's cycle paths and infrastructure are incredible," he says. "The paths follow the rivers, not the roads." The site also loves a "best of" list, including the best off-road tours and city tours, packing tips and a guide to choosing the best bicycle tour. To lycra or not to lycra? That's your call.
